A Ruined But Great Surprise From the Flu

Hello, this is David and we are about to go on a wonderful journey about a boy name Johnny and it is his mothers birthday. Him and his 2 sisters and 1 brother planned a surprise that was ruined, but it turned out great. Here we go.

Johnny's mother went out to the mall to buy some clothes for her 45th birthday. In the meantime Johnny and his siblings were back at home planning the surprise party. So, Johnny tells his little brother to go to the hallway closet to get the banner to hang up. Back at the mall mom went in the store and she brought a blue shirt. The cashier gave mom the flu. Johnny and his siblings had the house perfect. Boom! The car door slammed. Johnny and his siblings said "Oh no let's hurry up and turn the lights off." So, mom opens the door and they turned the lights on and says "surprise!" It scared the snot out of her. I mean she was so scared she sneezed and coughed at the same time. She sneezed so hard that she jumped up with her hands in the air and made the banner fall on her. The kids said get up mom. She responds "Kids I just want to go to bed." The kids see "what going on Mom its your birthday. Mom says oh well I guess it is ruined. Johnny says to his siblings "I think moms not feeling good we have to do Something. I know let's make her breakfast in the morning. Yeah and a big dinner. Mom woke up went to the kitchen and her flu was gone. Went back to bed. The kids bring eggs, bacon, toast, and sausages to her in bed and say to her "I hope you feel better." Mom says "I'm already well but, thank you anyway. Kids let's go out today to celebrate. The hurried up and put clothes on. They wanted to go as much as mom did. Oh well. Hey, I hope you all liked my story cause I thought it was great. Thank you.
